SHAMEFUL

Nuns Are Arrested by Order of Gov. Park Trammell, of Florida.

They Were Teaching Colored Children in a Colored Parochial School.

Southern State Made a Laughing Stock to Rest of the Country.

DISGRACED BEFORE THE NATION

The "Chivalrous South" has a stain on its escutcheon, put there by Gov. Park Trammell, of the sovereign State of Florida, in his maltreatment of good, noble and every veteran of the Confederacy in his heart of hearts. The State of Florida seems to have gone stark mad in its bigotry," says the Morning Star of New Orleans in denouncing the Governor's action. It celebrated Easter by ordering the arrest of three Sisters of St. Augustine in the ancient city of St. Augustine on Easter Monday. This is the disgrace that today stamps Florida before the eyes of the nation. Catholic Sisters were marched as prisoners through the streets of the oldest Catholic city in the United States, where the first mass was said, where the first priest martyrs shed their blood for the faith, where the first church was erected, where Christianity was first preached. And what was their crime? They taught little colored children to read and write and to know God, in a colored parochial school. Yes, that is a crime in the State of Florida!

Three years ago a law was passed forbidding whites to teach the colored in colored schools. The law forbids teaching—no other word is used. Hence according to Florida law the white Catholic Bishop of Florida, who is white, could be marched a prisoner through the streets of St. Augustine by orders of Gov. Park Trammell if he dared teach the Bible to colored children in the colored parochial school in the ancient city.

The proscriptive law has been declared unconstitutional by the best legal talent of the State, and for three years it remained a dead letter, for the very simple reason that the State itself violates the law in its blind institution in St. Augustine. But now that the "Garden of Eden" is in charge of the State, the law has been invoked. Throughout Florida the cry is "No Catholic need apply." This spirit of bigotry is State-wide. It obtains everywhere, apparently with the connivance and consent of the decent Protestant element, who have never yet protested against its prejudiced excesses. Here and there some individual or some journal may utter a word of condemnation, but the majority of the State seems to be paralyzed with fear of the banded, blind bigots. Hence the silence in the face of the injustice and the violation of American principles.

On Easter Monday the white bigots urged six ignorant negroes to petition the Government to enforce the unjust and dead law. These negroes are D. G. Adger, H. H. Johnson, N. Williams, Robert Houston, H. G. Tye and J. A. Jackson. The Governor was moved to action, and at his order Sheriff Perry, of St. John's county, arrested the Sisters. The law invoked is meant to keep the negro in ignorance, hence in subjection, by closing to him the public school. The Sisters of St. Joseph taught in a parochial school. The Governor was powerless in the matter. He is the servant of the bigots and had to do their bidding under penalty of losing his job. "Thus," says the Morning Star, "is Florida made a Farish among the States of the Union, a laughing stock to the rest of the country. Florida invites settlers. But it is no place for men who love fair play and justice, who stand squarely on the principles of liberty, so long as the State is controlled by so-called men who hate justice and trample on the rights of fellow men."

which was being conducted at Orange Park. At the time of its passage it was understood that the law was unconstitutional, but it seems never to have been put to the test. However, to be on the safe side, the late Bishop Kenny took the matter up with learned legal lights, to see if it would affect the Sisters in continuing the work which they had conducted for so many years, and was advised that the law was unconstitutional. But it has been reserved for this late date, after a lapse of three years, and at a time when our people were praying for a cessation of agitations which have scarred the peace. If not the happiness of our people, to spring a sensation, and that, too, at the best of six negroes.

It is a shame that cries to very heaven.

O'BRIEN STATE DEPUTY.

The State Council of the Knights of Columbus held the annual meeting here the first of the week, with results that will be satisfactory to the entire Kentucky membership. Monday and Tuesday nights the delegates and visitors were the guests of Louisville Council, and were entertained most hospitably. Tuesday morning the Knights attended mass at St. Louis Bertrand's church, and at the business session that followed State Deputy Oberst announced the following committees:

Credentials—George A. Burkley, N. A. Hartig, H. J. Shea, J. E. Greenwald, Urey, B. H. Hildon. Resolutions—John T. Donovan, J. B. Theissen, Frank A. Geher, Dr. J. W. Daugherty, V. M. Shively. Finance—J. William Klapheke, J. E. Wise, R. G. Goodin, J. J. King, Charles J. Rice.

Audit—R. J. Colbert, C. P. Clark, Leo Wathen, W. T. Barker, M. J. Kearney. The reports showed that Kentucky now has a membership of nearly 5,000 divided into twenty-one councils, all in flourishing condition. As heretofore the Knights will continue their work of sending priests to those sections of the State where the Catholics are scattered and are without pastors. Tuesday afternoon the election of officers was held and resulted as follows: State Deputy, James J. O'Brien, Lexington; Secretary, George A. Burkley, Louisville; Treasurer, Henry Whalen, Bardonia; Advocate, Ed. J. Tracy, Covington; Warden, Dr. J. W. O'Connor, Elizabethtown. Frank P. O'Donnell, of Maysville; A. B. Oberst, of Owensboro, and James J. O'Brien, of Lexington, were elected delegates to the meeting of the Supreme Council in Davenport in August. Alternates are J. W. Klapheke, of Louisville; D. M. Cooper, of Elizabethtown, and W. T. Drury, of Morganfield. Bowling Green was selected for the next State Council convention. The local Women's Entertainment Committee, which took charge of the visiting women, was composed of Mrs. George A. Burkley, Mrs. P. H. Callahan, Mrs. Samuel J. Boldrick, Mrs. Thomas Mapother, Mrs. Florence Kellner and Mrs. Fred A. Bauer. They took the visitors on a shopping tour, gave them a theater party at Keith's, and also an automobile ride over the boulevards and through the parks.

MAJOR H. H. BONDHOLTZ, Appointed Commander of the Department of the East, including Plattsburg camp.

VINCENNIANS. The general meeting of the St. Vincent de Paul Society last Sunday afternoon was most gratifying to the men who form that splendid Catholic charity society, the Knights of Columbus Hall being crowded to the doors. President John A. Doyle occupied the chair and Secretary Bohner read the reports of the twenty-one conferences in this city. Short but interesting addresses were made by Rev. Father Eugene Donahoe, Rev. Father Deppen and Dr. Felix Gaudin, of New Orleans, who expressed surprise over what he heard and told of what the St. Vincent de Paul Society was doing in the Crescent City. The reports showed that in the twenty-one conferences there are 1,328 active and 338 subscribing members. During the past three months 265 families, embracing 989 persons, have been the beneficiaries of the society, and there still remain 106 families and 364 people on the relief roll. The visits made numbered 1,073 and the money disbursed among the poor of the city without regard to creed, color or nationality amounted to $2,033.64. This is certainly a showing that stamps the St. Vincent de Paul as Louisville's greatest charity society.

ENGLISH GOVERNMENT

Adds Another Awful Chapter to Its Long and Bloodthirsty History by Its Wholesale Murder of Patriotic Irishmen.

Men Who Were Shot Without Fair Trial Compared to the Signers of American Declaration of Independence.

"BRITAIN SAME OLD TYRANT" SAYS SUPREME JUSTICE DANIEL COLAHAN

Day by day the English Government adds another chapter to its bloody history in Ireland, the wholesale shooting of the Irish revolutionists being chronicled in our daily press until such a wave of indignation and protest from the people far and wide has even frightened the pro-English press on this side of the water. Henry Watterson, the Courier-Journal editor and John Bull loyalist, even belatedly in the latest outrage of the British Government, characterizing the murder of Pearce and his followers as another episode of England's brutality and stupidity. Sir Roger Casement was captured, as alleged, through the plotting of Secret Service agents of the United States Government. Immediately following the capture of Casement, the pro-English press and paid emissaries of Great Britain circulated far and wide that Sir Roger was insane, etc., and that the English Government would probably confine him in an insane asylum, not referring in any way to the recent occurrence when England offered a bribe of $5,000 to have him assassinated.

When the Dublin revolution started, after an attempt of the British to search and disarm the Irish Volunteers, the pro-English press and without investigation characterized the outbreak as the insane folly of ignorant fanatics, but when the truth was revealed and the leaders shown to be men of learning and representative Irishmen this same press veered to another tack. Another favorite phrase of the paid press bureau is to advertise England as "the friend of the little and oppressed nations," while again she is characterized in the present war as fighting the battles of civilization. And this, too, after her long and bloodthirsty career as the oppressor of Ireland, India, South Africa, robbing the Boers and murdering the flower of that nation to pave the way for a downright theft of valuable mining concessions. In India she showed herself the friend of the oppressed by firing natives from the mouth of cannon for rebelling against the starvation methods of John Bull.

"Murder" is the word Americans of Irish descent and Irish birth are using in referring to the execution by the British Government of Irish volunteers who rebelled against it and endeavored to set up a new Irish republic. Justifying their use of the word, they point to parallel upon parallel in American history. The declaration of Irish independence, framed and signed by Patrick H. Pearce, Thomas McDonagh, Eamonn Ceannt, James Connolly, Joseph Plunkett, S. McDermid and Thomas Clarke, is declared by them to be on the same high plane with the American Declaration of Independence. The Irish signers of the Declaration of Irish independence have been condemned as traitors. Pearce, McDonagh, Plunkett and Clarke have been shot. Connolly is held a prisoner, and only McDermid escapes. They are still at large and, Irish Volunteers in this country declare, carrying on the work their compatriots started with them. Eoin MacNeill, Irish Volunteer head, is also at liberty.

Editor Ford, of the Irish World, finds a parallel in the case of John Brown. He says: "The memory of the martyrs who died that Ireland might live a full life will nerve Irishmen to heroic deeds in the last and victorious fight against England. On the eve of our civil war, Wendell Phillips, the American orator who so often pleaded the cause of Ireland, delivered a lecture entitled 'Harper's Ferry.' The subject matter of it was John Brown's fall at slavery. What Wendell Phillips said on that occasion is applicable to the Irish case. 'Well, men say he failed. Whether in chains or laurels, liberty knows nothing but victories. Soldiers call Bunker Hill a defeat, but liberty dates from it, though Warren lay dead on the field.'

ORPHAN SOCIETY.

The Catholic Orphan Society, having in charge St. Vincent and St. Thomas Orphanages, is making active preparation for the picnic to be held on the Fourth of July on the grounds of St. Vincent's Asylum, Payne and Cavewood avenue. An executive committee has been appointed from the central society to supervise the affair, as follows: William T. Meenan, ex-officio Chairman; Rev. C. B. Raffo, J. M. Moriarty, William Borgman, William O'Mara, Edward Lanning, Charles T. Faulkner, George A. Naber, B. J. Campbell and S. R. Hardmann. A. J. Chappell, of St. Louis Bertrand parish, has been chosen as Chairman of the General Committee, and John P. Cassidy, Secretary. Both these gentlemen were introduced to the opening meeting on Monday night, and both made addresses expressing their great interest in this work and their intention to push it as earnestly as possible. Messrs. Chappell and Cassidy have both been connected in an official capacity with St. Louis Bertrand branch of the society, the former as Secretary and the latter as President, and are familiar with the needs of the institutions.

At the preliminary meeting interest and enthusiasm were displayed by all present, and a favorable indication was the large number of those in attendance. The call from the pulpit of the English speaking congregations on the preceding Sunday. Much work is to be done, and a cordial invitation is extended to all Catholics to attend the meetings. The Executive Committee announced the appointment of Chairmen of some of the standing committees, and they are all ladies and gentlemen well known in Catholic circles, who will do their part in making the picnic a great success. The Chairmen appointed are as follows:

Grounds, Charles J. O'Connor; Big Wheel, John H. Coleman; Dairy, Lee R. Yates; Linen, Mrs. Morgan J. Parlin; Ice Cream, R. F. Laffey; Apron, Mrs. E. G. Ketherland; Tickets, John J. Shelley; Bishop's Picture, Ray Schumann; Soft Drinks, John J. Barry; Refreshments, Thomas J. Filburn; Oil Painting, Mrs. Carrie R. Bentley; Duck Pond, J. E. Brownfield; Orphans' Booth, Mr. Matt O'Donoghue; Candy, Thomas Stevens; Country Store, Louis G. Russell; Lighting, Will A. Link; Press, John P. Cassidy; Out-door Advertising, Charles G. Pfeffer; Raffle, S. M. Raffo; Music, E. V. Simms; Transportation, Edward L. Andriot; Decorating, Tony Montedonico; Picture Slides, Lee R. Yates.

The Chairmen of standing committees have been authorized to appoint their own workers, and are expected to select them from as many of the different parishes as possible. They will report their selections to the weekly meetings from time to time. Meetings are held every Monday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 816 Fourth avenue, which are open to the people in the city who feel interested in the charitable work and would like to contribute their services.

Actually, in this Sodom of ours, twenty-two men have been found ready to die for an idea. Thank God for John Brown, that he has discovered or created them."

John Devoy, editor of the Gaelic-American, says of the executions: "These men were murdered and Ireland before this war is over will exact a heavy toll for the butchery. Every man of them was taken in arms, wearing uniforms and were soldiers of an Irish army. These gallant Irishmen were murdered for the purpose of striking terror into Ireland, but the attempt will fail as all such exhibitions of English brutality and savagery have failed in the past. The men she has butchered are the political saints of Ireland today."

Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Colahan, of New York, said: "No greater contrast could be found than that between the humane and wise course pursued by the United States toward the defeated Southerners and that which England is now following with the Irishmen who were taken in arms, battling against her. America was merciful, and conciliation followed defeat. England is merciless, and will reap the whirlwind of the seed which she now sows. The deaths of the Irish leaders are but further proof that it is the same old England, with one law through all the centuries for the Sir Edward Carsons and the General Frenches and another one for the mere Irish. The killing of Pearce, Clarke and McDonagh seemed to show that fear had turned England's head for the moment and that she was striking blindly. But the deaths of Plunkett, William Pearce, Daly and O'Hanrahan Friday, and now of Major McBride, indicate that the policy of terrorism and savage repression has been deliberately adopted, and that Ireland is to be engulfed in the blood of her brightest and her bravest. Tyrants without number acted thus in other ages, and inevitably have failed. The fires of liberty have been rekindled in Ireland, and will glow more fiercely with every fresh death until the last vestige of English rule is destroyed."

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS.

The Catholic Knights of America opened the nineteenth Supreme Council here Tuesday morning and is still in session. Delegates and visitors attended Pontifical high mass at the Cathedral, the celebrant being the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue. Bishop O'Donoghue preached the sermon and extended a cordial welcome to the delegates, who made a splendid appearance. Following the mass the convention met in the ballroom of the Tyler Hotel, where the address of welcome was made by Gen. Michael Reichert, who introduced William O'Connor, assistant City Attorney, as representative of the Mayor. Supreme President Gaudin responded and then declared the convention open for business. The Credentials Committee was named and reported all the States represented. President Gaudin announced the committees as follows: The first important business of Wednesday was the relinquishing of the Kentucky charter and the decision to reincorporate in Missouri. This necessitates a revision of the constitution and by-laws and occupied most of the time of the convention. Among the resolutions passed was one directing branches to have a memorial mass for deceased members during the month of November each year, making 100 members the basis of State representation and encouraging continuance of the Uniform Rank. The convention on Wednesday sent a telegram to the Papal Delegate, renewing assurances of filial loyalty to the Holy Father. Greetings were received from Cardinal Farley, of New York; Knights of Columbus of Kentucky; Catholic Knights and Ladies of America and the Supreme Council, Catholic Benevolent Legion, in session in Brooklyn.

Former Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott addressed the delegates in the afternoon and commended the good work the order is doing. The Rev. Father J. T. Knue, of McQuady, State Chaplain of the Kentucky Knights of Columbus, also delivered an address.

The social features were many and greatly enjoyed, surpassing the expectations of everybody, and included luncheons, automobile races, theater parties and a grand banquet at the Tyler Hotel on Thursday night.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Trinity Council, Y. M. C. I., held a rousing meeting Monday evening, twenty applications being received in the membership campaign now going on any many more are expected next Monday evening, May 15, which is the closing date, after which the initiation fee will be decreased from $5 to $10. The booster team, captained by Ed Zebender, still leads, followed closely by the All Stars under the leadership of George Glass. President B. J. Sandmann urges a full attendance for Monday evening as the final reports and results of the membership campaign promise to be very interesting and lively. A delightful musicale followed the meeting, the programme being arranged by John M. Hennessy, of the Literary Committee, and in which the following took part: Miss Carrie Fincke, soprano; Miss Mary Hinkle, contralto; Eugene Timmel, tenor; Louis Hoffman, bass, and Dr. Edward H. Hubbuck, tenor. The programme was arranged by Prof. Leo A. Schmitt and each number was enthusiastically received. Another source of gratification was the fact that the gentlemen taking part were all members of Trinity Council.

BULL MOOSERS

Issue Their Defiant to Those in Control of the Republican Party.

Must Take Roosevelt or His Personal Selection For Moosers Support.

Renowned Political Critic Adverses Gov. Stanley and State Leaders.

HALDEMAN SHOULD WITHDRAW

National Chairman Perkins, of the Progressive party, came out in a statement Wednesday which can be construed as the ultimatum of the Bull Moose party. The latter want, first of all, to see that Roosevelt is given the Republican nomination, but on account of the Rough Rider's weak showing in several of the recent Presidential primaries they will be willing to withdraw his name, but must give him the right to name the nominee. Mr. Perkins puts it in a more subtle way when he says the Republican nominee must be acceptable to the Progressive party and principles, in other words the G. O. P. choice must be the choice of Roosevelt, who is the Progressive party, and the nominee must bind himself to obey Roosevelt in everything and have no opinions but the opinions of Roosevelt. In the event that the Republican leaders refuse to accept this dictation the Bull Moose convention will name J. Hollinsworth, of California, as the standard-bearer and react the scenes of 1912—anything to beat the Republican party.

In the Republican convention the Roosevelt delegates will, on the first ballot and as many succeeding ballots as their idol will permit, cast their votes for his nomination, but if they are in a hopeless minority then it is the intention for Roosevelt to offer the names of ex-Gov. Hadley, of Missouri, or Gen. Leonard Wood as his compromise candidates. On these he will stand pat and there is no possible chance of securing his support for Root, Hughes, Weeks, Burton, McCall or any of the foremost candidates. The candidate in the Republican convention must be Roosevelt, Hadley or Wood, and if neither of these are chosen you will see the Rough Rider and all of his forces adjourn to the camp of the Bull Moosers and immediately plan the nomination of ex-Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, on a third party ticket.

When the proposed harmony plan of the Stanley and local organizations was announced the Kentucky Irish American went on record as saying that everyone of the selections for the convention choices were satisfactory to the average Democrat with the exception of the proposed plan to select Gen. W. B. Haldeman as successor of National Committeeman Urey Woodson. It was contended in these columns that the greedy policy of the Courier-Journal and Times in local and State politics had not won many friends or supporters, while Urey Woodson had outlived his usefulness to the party and been sufficiently honored. This being the situation it would be better for all concerned for both to withdraw, or agree on a neutral choice. That this is the popular view is shown in the following letter to "Savoyard," the Washington political critic, who addresses the following advice to Gov. Stanley, while at the same time stating that he is not a friend or admirer of Woodson's:

"Don't do it, Gov. Stanley. You force on the Kentucky Democracy W. B. Haldeman. The party has stood, and can stand, a heap of things; but it can not, and will not, stand Bill Haldeman. Louisville tried him for boys with what disastrous consequences you know and Louisville knows, Governor, we have fallen on times when the common people will not tolerate a machine—not even the wretched Republicans, unrepentant and unregenerate as they are. The Governor of all the people, and as leader of the Democratic party, be dead of no faction. Did you ever fear of one Luke Lea, of Tennessee? He is a warning. Are you fatuous fool enough to make him an example?"

Your environment, Owsley, I admit, is embarrassing. You can do appreciate it and I sympathize with you. You know and I know—everybody knows—that Willie Haldeman is a spoiled child who has to be amused to keep him out of mischief. The novelty has about vanished from that gorgeous military title that voluptuates his name, and he is fretting for another ribbon to wear on the lapel of his coat. Looking round and about he saw that Urey Woodson was National Committeeman and he grabbed for that. He loves to strut across the stage. He is infatuated with the limelight. The tulip trapping and superb circumstances of glorious and pompous—especially pompous—bossism have irresistible fascination for the "General."

And so you tossed him the bone with the disastrous result that a majority of over 30,000 was depleted to a majority of less than 500. Owsley, can you afford to repeat that? That is the way it looks to an exile Kentuckian way off here in the District of Columbia.

POPE STANDS FIRM.

Pope Benedict has ratified the decision of the Commission of Cardinals confirming the validity of the marriage of Count Boni de Castellano to Anna Gould, now Duchess Talleyrand. The Papal ratification definitely bars annulment of the marriage. What have those who have been predicting other action and impugning the church regarding divorce to say now? The Catholic church never has and never will recognize divorce.

SHADOW OF YEARS.

Even the most optimistic friends of Ireland did not expect that an immediate good would result from revolution. Those who know the situation best realized that it must end in failure. As the Union and Times says, it may draw the attention of the world to the wrongs of Ireland. England can not remain blind to the spirit of her neighbor subjects. The moral effect of the uprising may be greater than now appears. The English imagine they have fooled the Irish. The truth is Ireland has not been fooled for one minute. The smoldering embers of an inborn yearning for liberty that is characteristic of the race are still present in every village of the land from the Causeway to Cork. This new revolt may remind the British Government that these embers may be fanned to a flame to its serious disadvantage.

The present troubles are the result of wrongs of many years. England has handled all her colonies with consummate tact and liberality, but she has failed lamentably to understand the brilliant, proud and lovable race that is united to her by many ties of blood and identified with the glory of her arms and the triumph of her spirit of adventure. The seed of fear and distrust that has been liberally sown for nearly a thousand years still grows upon the soil of Ireland. The revolutionists have been defeated, but their effort will register a new devotion to an old ideal. Britain will feel the effect of the revolt to a serious degree. It will make men realize that there are still many in Ireland who are willing to give their lives for Ireland's freedom. It is unfortunate that the Irish cause should have to attach itself to a world war in which it should be in no way connected. It is unfortunate that its supreme stand of a generation should come at a time when noble things like liberty and freedom are forgotten in a mad commercial death struggle. Whatever be the outcome of this new demand for freedom, the world must once again bow in acknowledgement to a race that has an undying fealty to the principle for which men like Emmet gave their blood.

Had the insurrection been started a few years ago, Sir Roger Casement would be promptly hanged as a traitor. If England follows precedent we may see Sir Roger made a Cabinet officer as Mr. Carson was, or he may be put in command in the British army, as was General French. If the rebellion in Ulster had been dealt with in a manner it deserved it is probable that England would not have had to deal with the rebellion in Dublin. It may be possible that England has come to the point where she will be willing to learn a lesson. If so, she may learn that the lengthening shadow of many years of wrong still falls across her path.

HIGH HANDED.

We hear much in the daily press of German spies and agents on this side working in the interests of Germany, but for a sample of the outrages and high-handed proceedings of the English Government read the following statement to the Louisville Board of Trade from an unbiased source:

"The export tobacco trade of this city has suffered and continues to suffer seriously through the injustice of restrictions now being placed upon the exports of tobacco by an institution in Washington called the 'Trade Department of the British Embassy' which has been instrumental in throwing around export shipments of not only tobacco, but many other commodities, such hardships as to be in all respects detrimental to American shippers."

"The steamship companies refuse to take shipments until the shipper can file with them a letter of assurance or permission from the Trade Department of the British Embassy, and after this permit has been secured the tobacco delivered at seaport, the steamship companies will not load it on board their vessels until a representative of the British Embassy has stripped and examined the contents of each hoghead of tobacco, or subjected it to an X-ray examination, all of which is at the expense of the shipper. We understand that the steamship companies enforce these requirements because they are required by the British Government to have this permission from the British Embassy, and examine the goods in order to avoid having their steamers delayed indefinitely by the British Government on the other side. The tobacco referred to is shipped by neutral consignors to neutral consignees in a neutral country for consumption in a neutral country."

HARD PRESSED.

The New York World, one of the most rabid of the pro-English papers, publishes a cable dispatch via London from one Robert J. Foster, who bitterly attacks the Irish who rebelled against England and further says that Ireland is united against Germany in the present war. The World is certainly hard pressed for correct information when it quotes Foster, as he is none other than the ex-Louisville Police Captain who achieved notoriety here under the Grinstead administration, and before taking up his residence here served a year in prison.

ENCOURAGING.

The latest news from the troubled countries across the water is more encouraging than has been received for some time. If the United States manages to remain on a friendly basis with all belligerents, the head of our Government will be invited to act as mediator between the Central Powers and the Allies. From which side of the opposing nations will come the prayer for peace is not known, but in whatever direction peace may come in the name of Christianity let it hasten and may God direct the justice of it.

Ex-Gov. Martin H. Giyan, of New York, has been selected to preside as Temporary Chairman and deliver the keynote address at the Democratic national convention at St. Louis. Speaker Champ Clark is expected to be the Permanent Chairman. Better selections could not be made.

Germany seems willing to make another effort to satisfy President Wilson, and to walk the chalk line or rigid observance of obsolete international laws that he has set for it, while leaving England free to set those laws aside.

The cold blooded murders of the Irish patriots by England has caused widespread indignation and the pro-English press is powerless to stop the American sentiment against the cowardly oppressor, John Bull.

Bishop Chatard, of Indianapolis, who is now in his eighty-second year, observed the thirty-eighth anniversary of his consecration on May 12.

FATHER CREARY DEAD.

Rev. Father John A. Creary, well known to many Louisville people and especially those of the early Catholic families here, died Wednesday evening at Fond du Lac, Wis., where he had been chaplain at the Henry Boyle Home for several years. He was seventy-three years of age and in 1913 celebrated a double anniversary on February 8, that date being his birthday and also the forty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. Father Creary was born in Rathdowney, Ireland, his father dying when he was a child, he and his mother and sister coming to this country when he was eleven years of age. He began his preparatory studies for the priesthood at St. Thomas College, Bardonia, in 1865, and completed his studies at St. Joseph's Seminary, Troy, N. Y. After his ordination Father Creary was stationed at the Cathedral and later became pastor at St. Brigid's church, where he remained for fourteen years. In 1905 he was transferred to Fond du Lac as assistant pastor at St. Patrick's church, later on being appointed as chaplain to the Henry Boyle Home. The body was shipped to Funeral Director Al Smith and lay in state at the Cathedral, where the funeral takes place this morning at 9 o'clock.

Next Saturday night, May 20, will be Kentucky Irish American night at the Louisville Manufacturer's Exhibit at Exhibit Hall, Fourth and Broadway, and special entertainment will be arranged for those who attend on that evening as the guests of this paper. To encourage the exhibit the following list of prizes have been donated by the merchants to be awarded on Kentucky Irish American night, May 20, the only stipulation being that the winner must call for the contest blank and be present when the award is made:

PLAN INITIATION.

At the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., Monday evening in Bertrand Hall President John H. Hennessy announced that the division officers planned to hold an initiation before the weather became too warm and that a class of about fifty would be secured, the majority of whom are now obligated but awaiting to go through the degree work. The application of Boyd Thompson was received and Joseph W. Torpey, John J. Barrett, Thomas J. Healy and John E. Baldwin were elected to membership. Short addresses were made by former County Secretary Edward J. Keenan and William J. Schnell, the latter one of the veteran members of Division 4, and who made an interesting talk on the present revolution in Ireland. Financial Secretary Thomas J. Langan announced that he had several resolutions to introduce at the next meeting of the County Board in regard to important changes in the State by-laws.

One of the requirements of the conservatory course of music of Sacred Heart Academy is to take an examination in piano technique, interpretation and harmony of music from a professor of acknowledged reputation. Accordingly Miss Avis Jones will present her repertoire of thirty pieces, together with her year's work of harmony, to Mr. Leighton on May 14.

SIZED UP RIGHT.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Mrs. Frances J. Metcalfe, widow of the late Dr. J. C. Metcalfe, took place Monday morning from St. John's church. Until some years ago Mrs. Metcalfe resided in this city and she and her husband were prominently identified with St. John's church. Mrs. Metcalfe was eighty-six years old and leaves a large family. Since leaving Louisville she had been making her home in Oldham county, near Lagrange.

Tuesday morning the funeral of Dr. Charles J. Gelsier, beloved husband of Mrs. Mary Gelsier, 515 East Jefferson street, was held from St. Boniface church, attended by many mourning friends. Dr. Gelsier was born here twenty-seven years ago and was a widely known dentist. He was an active member of Trinity Council and took great interest in athletic sports. Dr. Gelsier was Secretary of the St. Joseph Orphan Society and prominent in a number of Catholic fraternal and charitable societies. He leaves besides his widow one daughter and his mother and sister.

The sudden and unexpected death of Anthony Kolb, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alton Kolb, 509 East Broadway, following a two days' illness of pneumonia, was a great shock to his friends throughout the city. He was twenty years old and a young man with bright prospects. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Alton and Lowell Kolb, and two sisters, Miss Lorine and Rose Kolb. The funeral took place Monday from the Cathedral, where he was a devout communicant since his childhood. For the sympathy of the family the most sincere sympathy is felt.

KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN.

Phoenix Hill Park was thronged with people Monday night to witness the annual inspection and drill of the united commanderies of the Knights of St. John of this city, who made a splendid appearance. Col. John Fox put the Knights through the maneuvers, each commandery winning applause for its excellent work. Col. Paul J. Breen was the inspecting officer and high scores were achieved by those who took the floor. Col. Fox was presented with a gold mounted sword, the speech being made by County Attorney Scott Bullitt, who said it was a token of the esteem in which Col. Fox was held. He also paid a fine tribute to the Knights for their charity and benevolence. Col. Paul Breen, Col. Theodore Poppe and Col. Joseph Betz were the recipients of handsome jeweled medals. After a drill by St. Margaret's Auxiliary the evening was devoted to pleasure and dancing.

SENIOR CLASS LECTURE.

Very Rev. T. L. Crowley, Prior of St. Louis Bertrand's church, delivered a lecture to the senior classes of the Holy Rosary Academy last Wednesday, his subject being "the development of the English drama and Shakespeare's great work of improving it." The lecture was especially enjoyed by his hearers, as Father Crowley's familiarity with his subject and eloquent delivery made it doubly interesting.

DOWN RIVER EXCURSION.

The first down the river excursion of the season will be given on the steamer Homer Smith on Tuesday, May 30. Decoration day, by the congregation of St. Philip Neri's church, and arrangements are being made to handle and entertain a big crowd on that day. The boat will leave Fourth street wharf at 8 o'clock; Portland wharf at 9 and New Albany at 9:30, and will go down as far as Brandenburg.

"THE AMERICAN GIRL."

The first performance of "The American Girl," given by the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy, was so well received that the performance will be repeated after the graduation exercises in June. The audience that heard the first performance exceeded the capacity of the auditorium, notwithstanding the bad weather, and will be pleased to witness it again.

COVINGTON.

Mother of God congregation of Covington will celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary next Sunday. Rev. Ferdinand Kuehr was the first pastor of that congregation in 1841, the church then being located where Notre Dame Academy now stands. In May, 1891, the congregation celebrated its golden anniversary, the festivities continuing for eight days.

DANCING EXHIBITION.

Many are looking forward to the annual dancing exhibition of Miss Blanche Mitchell's pupils next Friday evening at Macaulay's Theater, as the enjoyable programmes furnished every spring are considered a rare treat by those who appreciate the dancing of the little ones. The performance will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets and reserved seats are now on sale at Baldwin's music store.

OPEN RETAIL STORE.

T. W. Tarry & Co. have opened a wholesale and retail cigar and tobacco store at 603 West Market street, with a full and complete line of goods for the users of the enticing weed.

Ladies' Auxiliary 3 of St. Francis held an open meeting and county fair Wednesday night, for which great preparations had been made.

The County Board will meet next Wednesday evening at Bertrand Hall and President Connelly requests a full attendance of the delegates.

The Hibernian Rifles and every member of the order in Columbus, Ohio, will turn out tomorrow morning and receive holy communion at St. Patrick's church.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Rome and Utica, N. Y., are increasing their membership. In Rome a banquet followed the initiation of a class of twelve candidates.

Many prominent Hibernian leaders took part in the recent indignation meeting which denounced England for the cold blooded murders of the Dublin revolutionists.

DERBY TODAY.

There has never been a Kentucky Derby run off, or for that matter any other three-year-old stake decided in this country, that could boast of as brilliant array of eligibles as are named to go in the Kentucky Derby this afternoon. There has never been such a stake run in this country which has had as probable starters—three-year-olds imported from England that wore stake winners on the turf in that country. The stage is set at Churchill Downs and indications are that all previous records will be broken. Manager Winn, President Grainger and Secretary Applegate have everything ready to accommodate the greatest crowd that ever witnessed an outdoor afternoon's recreation anywhere in all America. Aside from the great Derby there are seven other big stakes to be run off during this meeting, including such events as the Kentucky Oaks race, the Clark Handicap and the Debutante, Bashford Manor, Juvenile and Frank Fehr Stakes.

HAPPY DAY FOR SIXTY.

Sixty charges of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd were made happy at the annual picnic on Bank street on Sunday they received the sacrament of confirmation and a social entertainment was arranged in honor of the event. Those confirmed ranged from little tots in the juvenile department to middle-aged women of the senior reformatory. During the morning there was fun for the youngsters, a special dinner, and during the afternoon those confirmed received their friends and relatives. The sacrament of confirmation was administered Sunday afternoon by Bishop O'Donoghue, assisted by Fathers Valley, Fallon and Driscoll. Nine of the candidates had received baptism Saturday and twenty-three of them made their first communion Sunday morning. The following members of the Queen's Daughters acted as sponsors for confirmation: Mrs. John Thomas, Miss Mary Coady and Miss Rose Golden.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

Four close games were played in the Twin City League last Sunday, the Champs having a narrow escape from defeat at the hands of the tail-enders, the Trinity team, winning by a 6 to 5 score, the latter having strengthened considerably and will be heard from during the rest of the season. The K. of C. beat the strong Olympic club in a 6 to 3 game, while Mackin triumphed over the Imperials in a 7 to 5 game and Bertrands beat the Orioles in an 8 to 3 game. Spirited contests are featured again for tomorrow, as Mackin is due to play its old rival, the Trinity club, and much rooting will be in evidence, while Bertrands meet their old contenders for second honors, the Olympic club. The K. of C. will play the newcomers in the league, the Orioles, and the latter claim they will make a reputation for themselves by being the first to beat the Imperials and the former will have to improve in their playing to beat the boys from Schnitzelburg. The standing to date:

Clubs	W.	L.	Pct.
K. of C.	5	0	1.000
Mackin	3	1	.750
Bertrands	3	1	.755
Champs	3	1	.750
Orioles	1	3	.250
Imperials	1	3	.250
Olympics	1	3	.250
Trinity	0	4	.000

Members of the Twin City League are requested to watch for the announcement in these columns next week, which is sure to be of interest to not only the members but the fans. Realizing the interest in the world's series every fall and to show its interest in the Twin City League the Kentucky Irish American will send two members of the league to the big event in the fall, with all expenses paid. Watch for this announcement.

FONTAINE FERRY.

Fontaine Ferry Park tomorrow enters upon the second week of the 1916 season and another banner bill of vaudeville is promised, headlining the week's programme will be Earle Reynolds and Nellie Donegan, presenting their beautiful and elaborate novelty in dancing and skating. They have only recently returned from a long tour of Australia and India, and in their tour of this country they are presenting an attractive programme. Joe Keno and Elsie Green are on the new bill and will present a pleasing combination of singing, dancing and comedy. Their new offering is said to be superior to any in which the gifted pair have ever been seen. Another duo of much promise is that of Fred and Adele Astaire. The addition of the una-fon to the band by Sig. Natello has given rise to much favorable comment from the park patrons. The una-fon has a beautiful tone and its blending with the other instruments makes indeed a harmonious combination. The gate coupons are proving very popular with Ferry patrons and a noticeable increase in park attendance is reported over other seasons.

FANS STILL LOYAL.

The Louisville team will play again at Milwaukee this afternoon, tomorrow and Monday, making a series of four games in all, with Clark's team, and judging by the spirit displayed here between the two clubs the Milwaukee fans are in for some exciting sport. The Colonels' admirers and rooters here believe that the club has recovered from its disastrous spurt and before returning to Eclipse Park will redeem themselves. Their little string of losses is just another one of those uncertainties in the game of baseball that make it the great American pastime, the result of a single game or a series of games always being in doubt. After the poor record of twelve straight wins if Louisville continued that streak all through the trip many would have grown tired of the monotony and it would be frequently remarked, "Oh, well, Wathen has too strong a team for this league," etc., and as in the case of Connie Mack's Athletics their steady streak of victories kept people away from the park, being assured in advance as to the result. The team still looks good and there could be no beneficial change made in the present lineup, and the pitching staff is as strong as any of the other association clubs. When the team strikes their proper stride they will win at least 50 per cent. of the road contests.

ELECTED DELEGATE.

John Ritz, who represented St. Edward's Commandery of the Knights of St. John of New Albany at the State Council at Oldenburg, was elected one of the Indiana delegates to the Supreme Council to be held in Detroit next month.
